A Brooklyn girl has made a pretty lamp shade out of a sheet of pink tissue paper. She first cut a piece eight inches wide and three-quarters of a yard long. This was neatly pasted together and the top and bottom cut in long pointed scallops. The whole was then folded in fine knife pleatings and pressed between two books. When carefully opened the part to go about the top of the lamp was caught by a band of the paper pasted an inch from the edge and a butterfly bow ornamented on one side. When pasted over the white porcelain shade a rosy light is thrown out.

working one evening in his tent near the Danube, or near a pond, when a Turkish bomb dropped at the threshold of the tent. The General had just time to see the sentinel outside stoop down and phlegmatically throw the shell into the water. Skobeleff approached the soldier and said, "Do you know that you have saved my life?" "I have done my best, General," "Very well, which would you rather have the St. George's cross or 100 roubles?" The sentinel was a Jew with a fine Semitie profile. He hesitated a moment and ic profile. He hesitated a moment and then said: "What is the value of the St. George cross, my_General?" "What do you mean? The cross itself is of no value; t may be worth five roubles, perhaps, but it is an honor to possess it." "Well, my General," calmly said the soldier, "if it is like that, give me 95 roubles and the Cross of St. George!" Whether the prayer clint that child of that child of Israel was granted or not

A Bear Catches a Tartar.

One day last week Mrs. W. K. Lee discovered a bear swimming in the Columbia and determined on its capture. The men folks were all away, but she summoned a posse, including the children, a boat and the dog, and, armed with a butcher-knife, attempted to prevent a landing, while one of the children went after a neighbor who had a gun. The bear landed and showed fight. Mrs. Lee was treed once on a big rock, but gave chase again as the bear tried to make off. The bear turned on her again and in retreating she tripped on a stick and went down, when the bear made a lerocious attack. She struck with the knife and slashed it so severely on the nose that it went howling away long enough for her to regain her feet and the dog attacked so vigoronsly she made good her escape. About this time the man with the gun settled the contest and for several days bear stakes contest and for several days bear stakes were plenty in the neighborhood. Mrs. Lee showed great courage in the contest and deserved a bigger share of the bear than she received.

It is singular to note the gravity and the dignity assumed by a young girl as soon as her elder sister is married and out of the way. A case of this kind is seen in a family that has been passing the summer at Beach Bluff. The elder daughter, after considerable manœuvering, succeeded in winning the aftections of a masculine heart, while her sister, who was by far the prettier and more interesting of the two, was kept in short dresses and doomed to wear her hair in "pigtails," all "gentlemen friends" being strictly prohibited. Now, however, all is changed, long dresses and attractive costumes are worn, she enters into society, and has already learned the art of dainty coquetry, whereby at almost a glance she can determine a man's worth, his probable motives and his desirability as a husband, should affairs take a serious turn. It is singular to note the gravity and the serious turn.

Gautemar's Magatine.

A friend of the writer's, who for more than forty years has been in the employment of the Dutch Government, bears personal witness to the prevalence of the custom in Sumatra up till recent times. He was once making scientific investigations in the interior of that island, and was being entertained in the most hospitable manner by the native Rajah, or chief, of the place he was then in. A feast had been made to which he was bidden, and to which he went, taking his own native servant with him. The banquet had proceeded for some time without interruption, when at last, as a crown of the feast, a beautiful brown roast joint was brought from the back of the house to the open airy place where the repast was being held. This was cut up without remark and handed round, and the Dutch gentleman was on the point of eating his

The daughter of Mr. Sickles, a wealthy New Yorker, having eloped with an objectionable young groceryman, on their return the bride's father cheerfully forgave them, and placing the bride's hand in that of her husband, said:

"Keep her, young man, and I'll give you $20,000 to set you up in the grocery you 32,000 to set you up in the grocery business."

Whereupon the young man threw his arms around the bride and said: "Twenty thousand dollars! Even that shall not part us."

The fault with most all cough prepara-tions is that they contain morphia, and are absolutely injurious to the stomach and nerves. That simple preparation of wild cherry bark, called Dr. Wistar's Ralsam of Wild Cherry, contains no morphia and yet will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other compound. It is the only reany other compound. It is the only re-liable cure for consumption.

There are a great number of nuccidets about General Skobeleff, which have become legendary in the Russian army, and there are a much greater number about the Russian Jews which circulate through all classes of Russian society. The following story, which is of interest both for the admirers of the "white general" and the haters of the Russian Jew, was revived when Prince Bismarck, as a sign of special distinction, received the cross Pour le Merite. Skobeleff, so goes the story, was working one evening in his tent near the Danube, or near a pond, when a Turkish though dropped at the threshold of the tent. The General had just time to see the sentinel outside stoop down and phlegmatically throw the shall into the sents.

Some eight years ago I became the victim of a fearful Blood Polson, communicated by a nurse to my infant, and thence through the breast, and sutfered for six long years. The Mercury and Potson the statement seemed to drive the polson further into my system only to break out in worse form on other portions of my body. Three months ago I began taking Swife's Specific, and it has cured mo sound and well. It is the grantest blessing which has come to mankind in years."
